WILMA ROCHETEAU

Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1962

The graduating class of 1962 of Harwich High School, having ascended from the lowly depths of freshmen to the dizzy heights of seniors and being as sane as could be expected of any senior class, do declare this to be our LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT.

John Bennett leaves his mechanical ability to Mark McKenney . . .

Joseph Barber leaves his mother's Ford to John Gavin . . .

Anne Peterson leaves her driving ability to Erica Higgins . . .

Edna Barker leaves her mathematical ability to Jane Donnelly, an up-and-coming mathematician . . .

Paul Bergquist leaves his collegiate apparel to Tom Peterson . . .

Marcia Nickerson leaves her good behavior to Neal Hanlon . . .

Patsy Peters leaves her flirting eyes to Pam Morgan . . .

Brooks Moody leaves his out-spokenness to Brian McKenney . . .

Edie Eklof leaves her eye make-up to Dianne Crowell . . .

Glenn Rose leaves his athletic ability to Peter Jorgenson . . .

Martha Phillips leaves her sweater collection to Sally Symmes . . .

Russell Small leaves his suave sophisticated qualities to Richard Rose . . .

Lynne Wood leaves a carton of Newports to Irene Packard . . .

Tommy Smith leaves his diabolical actions to Tommy Barker . . .

Betty Welt leaves her artistic ability to Tony Hancock . . .

Carolyn Cashen leaves her dexterity to tamper, unnoticed, with class funds to Janice Votapka.

Diane Chase leaves her white moccasins to anyone that can keep them clean . . .

Martha Crowell leaves her cheerfulness to Janet Swanson . . .

Fran D'Elia leaves her sawed-off machine gun to anyone who feels he's had enough . . .

Sandra Freeman leaves her excess energy to Susie Patch . . .

Pat Long leaves her smoke hole position to Laurie Grindell . . .

Alice Duffy leaves rubber in the parking lot . . .

Pat Eldredge leaves her wild laugh to Mrs. Farham . . .

Susan Melbye leaves her ability to collect male rings to Amy Baksa . . .

Barbara Christian leaves her metrecal cookies to Mr. Abbott . . .

Shirley Gray leaves her quiet self-controlled personality to freshman Kathy Gomes . . .

Judy Burbine leaves her broken-down cars to Billy Jussila . . .

Pat Ford leaves her ability to give speeches to Jackie Caplice . . .

Rebecca Pina leaves her life-long job at King's department store to an up-and-coming saleswoman, Lucy Thomson . . .

Jimmy Pickett leaves his baby blue eyes to Donald Perkins . . .

Sharon Sebold leaves Marty Rich's "fuzzies" to any up-and-coming "fuzzy" collector . . .

The famous maid from Gaslight, Pat Viall, leaves her acting ability to Karen Nickerson . . .

Last but not least, Frank Cornwell leaves his grass skirt and dark glasses to Mr. Ebbett, who does a swinging hula twist . . .

Lethargically submitted,
Barbara Christian
Frank Cornwell.

The History of the Class of 1962

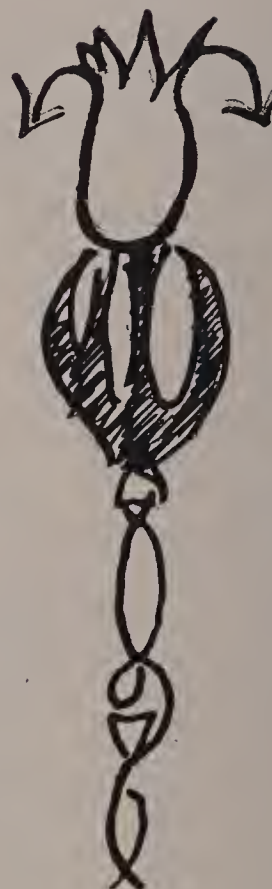

The year is over, and June has come,
The "War March of the Priests" seniors now hum.
We welcome the future, yet cling to the memory,
Of happy days in our school history.
We stand on the final step, here at last,
And so we recount the events of our past.

In the year '57, and in the fall,
We entered the high school one and all.
We chose Edna as President and Kenny Pina as veep,
While Dick took notes and Carolyn money did keep.
Our teachers all said, "You'll work, work, work,
And never, no never, your lessons will shirk."
With books piled high and our heads aswirl,
We tried to get A's and still have a whirl.

One year later and wiser this time,
We came back to the school in grade number nine.
Officers Wayne Ellis, Pat Ford, Martha Crowell and
Carolyn Cashen,
All the class business did reason and ration.
Our big class dance was the Horseshoe Hop,
Everyone danced 'til they did drop.
We left for vacation in the month of June,
But we were ready for school very soon.

Our sophomore year began in September,
And it was one that we'll always remember.
Martha Crowell was our President, Vice-President Anne P.,
Carolyn Cashen the treasurer, Russell Small, secretary.
An Aloha for the seniors was our dance of the year,
It's Hawaiian music we all still can hear.
French verbs, geometry and English were over,
As prospective juniors we were sitting in clover.

Juniors this time, 1960 the year,
We came back to school only to hear:
"This year will be busy, but one of your best,
Plans for the prom, and many a test."
Russell was President, with Pat Ford at his side,
Carolyn was treasurer, with Edie the scribe.
With so much to do time would just fly,
And before we knew the year had gone by.
It was the 12th of May, a day rainy and drear,
But the elementary gym was filled with good cheer.
We were decorating with flowers, streamers, and trees,
'Twas the day of the Prom, and we were all pleased.
The theme "Southern Splendor" was a very good one,

And it was carried out with laughter and fun.
We danced to the Miltones lilting airs,
And the beautiful dresses received admiring stares,
Our last real job was to decorate
Exchange Hall for those who were to graduate.
And then we were off for vacation and fun,
But wishing all the while that senior year would come.

Our senior year is here at last,
And now it seems to have come so fast.
The slate of officers is almost the same,
Sharon Sebold, as secretary, the only new name.
We went right to work with all our might,
And produced a play in December called "Gaslight."
It was a real thriller, with murder the theme,
And it provided the audience with many a scream.
At Christmastime we had a ball,
With stockings and mistletoe we decorated the hall.
In April came our Washington trip,
Not many of our classmates this did skip.
With the Peters there to guide us all the way,
We traveled far from Cape Cod Bay.
After the trip, with graduation no near,
We really felt happy, 'twas the end of the year!
Now we stand before you on this our class day,
Our minds filled with memories, wanting to say:
Thanks, teachers, classmates, and every friend,
You've all stood by and helped us to the end.
We'll remember you always though we travel far from here,
And our days spent at Harwich High will always be dear.

Class Prophecy

Anne and I are going to try
To see our classmates when time's gone by.
Their stories are different
Their beginnings the same
They ventured into the world
From Harwich High School they came.

Carnegie Hall we first traveled to
And such a sight there did view,
The lights did shine upon the aisle
'Twas the musical debut of our own Pat Viall.

In Martha Phillips we do see
The picture of wedded bliss,
Infectious warmth and charm are hers
Nothing can go amiss.

Numbers, figures, checks and bills
Are Brooks Moody's constant ills,
He keeps struggling every day
But where there's a will, there's a way.

Chugging along in her old black car
Alice Duffy we do see,
She's on her way to the office
And a job a secretary.

Washington is our nation's head
Marcia Nickerson's working there,
She files and types all day,
Leaving her office without a care.

A plane approached the runway,
It skidded to a stop.
From inside stepped General Pickett,
'Twas our Jimmy reached the top.

Eenie Meenie miney mo
Patsy Peters on the go.
Little Gordon and the other nine
Keep her busy all the time.

At the New York dancing studios
Sandie Freeman is light on her toes.
She teaches the cha-cha and the stroll
And other steps of rock and roll.

The F.B.I. in peace and war
Will never have much to fear,
With Shirley Gray to serve the law
Through each and every year.

Teaching math was Edna's goal
In this she tops them all
She's working at the U. of Mass.
And having quite a ball.

Flying off into the blue
Joseph Barber we do view,
A top-flight airman in the skies
He will succeed in all he tries.

In the brand new Harwich High School
With the English department as her goal,
Pat Ford and her mother
Try to keep things in control.

Art and music are Betty Jean's goals
With her talent she'll go far,
She'll reach the top and be a success
With Harold as her guiding star.

On the campus of Northeastern
Stands Majestic Russell Small,
He calculates business problems
With girls at his beck and call.

Wandering into a drugstore
We glanced at the magazines there,
On Vogue's cover we noticed
Carolyn Cashen and her lovely blonde hair.

Martha Crowell always wanted to travel
In this she has succeeded
To Texas, Florida, and Tijuana
But Allan is what she needed.

The bang of a muffler, the smoke from an exhaust
Jackie Bennett is here and all is not lost.
With his hot blue Ford and Mechanical skill
The town of Harwich will never be still!

A girl in a nurse's uniform
Has duty as her call,
Rebecca Pina cares for the sick
And doesn't mind at all.

In the State Insurance Company
The accountants have a ball,
Because Tom Smith keeps things lively
Twistin' down the hall.

Sue Melbye's sitting at her desk
As busy as she can be,
She draws and paints all day long
Her pictures are a joy to see.

70-80 words a minute,
Lynne Wood works hard all day
Striving for a successful career
She's sure to find a way!

The boys are all excited,
It's the biggest game of the year
Coach Glenn Rose gives them confidence
Which takes away their fear.

The Museum School is filled
With paintings by Fran D'Elia,
Her instructors are all impressed
She has the makings of a fine career.

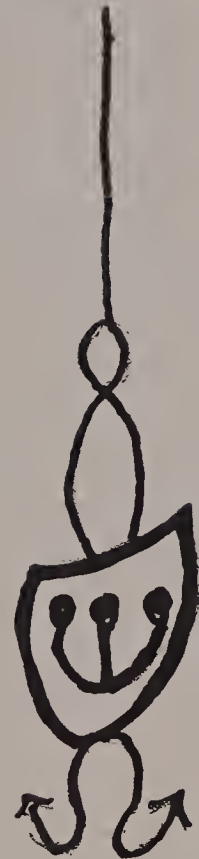

Standing in front of a blackboard
With a business-like look,
We see our own Anne Peterson,
Success at U. of Conn. by hook or by crook!

Laughter, music everywhere
Upon Ralph and Pat we gaze.
Hand in hand, the perfect pair;
Will it last for all their days?

Judy Burbine has arrived
And Boston's in a whirl
Her friendly personality
Will aid the success of this girl.

Pat Eldredge's life is filled with joy
She has Arthur and a new baby boy.
While he's working to pay the piper
She's at home washing diapers.

On a great big ranch in Texas
With his dream come true
Lives Paul Berquist and his family
Robbie, twelve children, and Foggy, too.

Gay and vivacious Barbara Christian
Will always be having fun,
She'll be escorted to many a dance
When her studies to Fisher are done.

Rah! Rah! for Bridgewater
That's Sharon Sebold's cheer,
Will a certain boy named Martin
Interfere with her career?

Diane Chase does hairstyling
She works in a beauty shop,
She's trying for a position in Paris
Until this - she will not stop.

In the great big city of New York
Edie Eklof's life is very gay,
Swinging parties every night
And working during the day.

We've taken quite a little trip
To see all of our friends
We hope that you've enjoyed it
And here our story ends.

Rebecca Pina

Our sincere appreciation to all those who labored in any way to make this yearbook possible. Special thanks to Martha Phillips for our theme Casting Off. And so we are! See you scattered around
